

COVID-19 Politicization and Weaponization

Update on 10.20.2020

COVID-19 Weaponization

- I am currently in the process of exploring COVID-19's weaponization potential. For the moment, I do not see the current iteration of COVID-19 as an actual bioweapon itself. COVID-19 was politicized, and it was weaponized by China, so maybe this could be added to the definition of weapon.
- There might be a cultural issue or perhaps a language barrier in what the Chinese whistleblowers consider a bioweapon, and what I consider a bioweapon. However, I do not have the last say in this regard, especially since China's behavior was very suspect at the beginning of the pandemic.
- Further, modifying COVID-19 for any type of weaponization ability would require expensive laboratory equipment and people with specialized abilities or training. Any type of fears in COVID-19's ability as a bioweapon should be reevaluated as COVID-19 is not your usual everyday type of academic and scientific endeavor. COVID-19 does have very questionable timing, however, this does not mean I do not think it is real because it is real, but any fears resulting from COVID-19's politicization should be reevaluated.
- I think the real issue with COVID-19 is why would a country allow it to spread in the first place, and why not ask for international assistance? Unless of course, the intention was to spread COVID-19 for one reason or another. I think this analysis answers this question.
- Reverse-engineering COVID-19's abilities for any potential weaponization aspects is still in progress.
- It seems as if something caught the Chinese off guard in relation to the pandemic. I'm still trying to figure out what that could be using publicly available sources. If I am not able to determine something in relation to this feeling that I have, then perhaps the Chinese were expecting a mass casualty event and maybe they actually were scared or perhaps they felt delight that their geopolitical strategy actually worked when in fact it did not work as intended. This is too hard to determine right now.

How this Hypothetical Scenario was Created

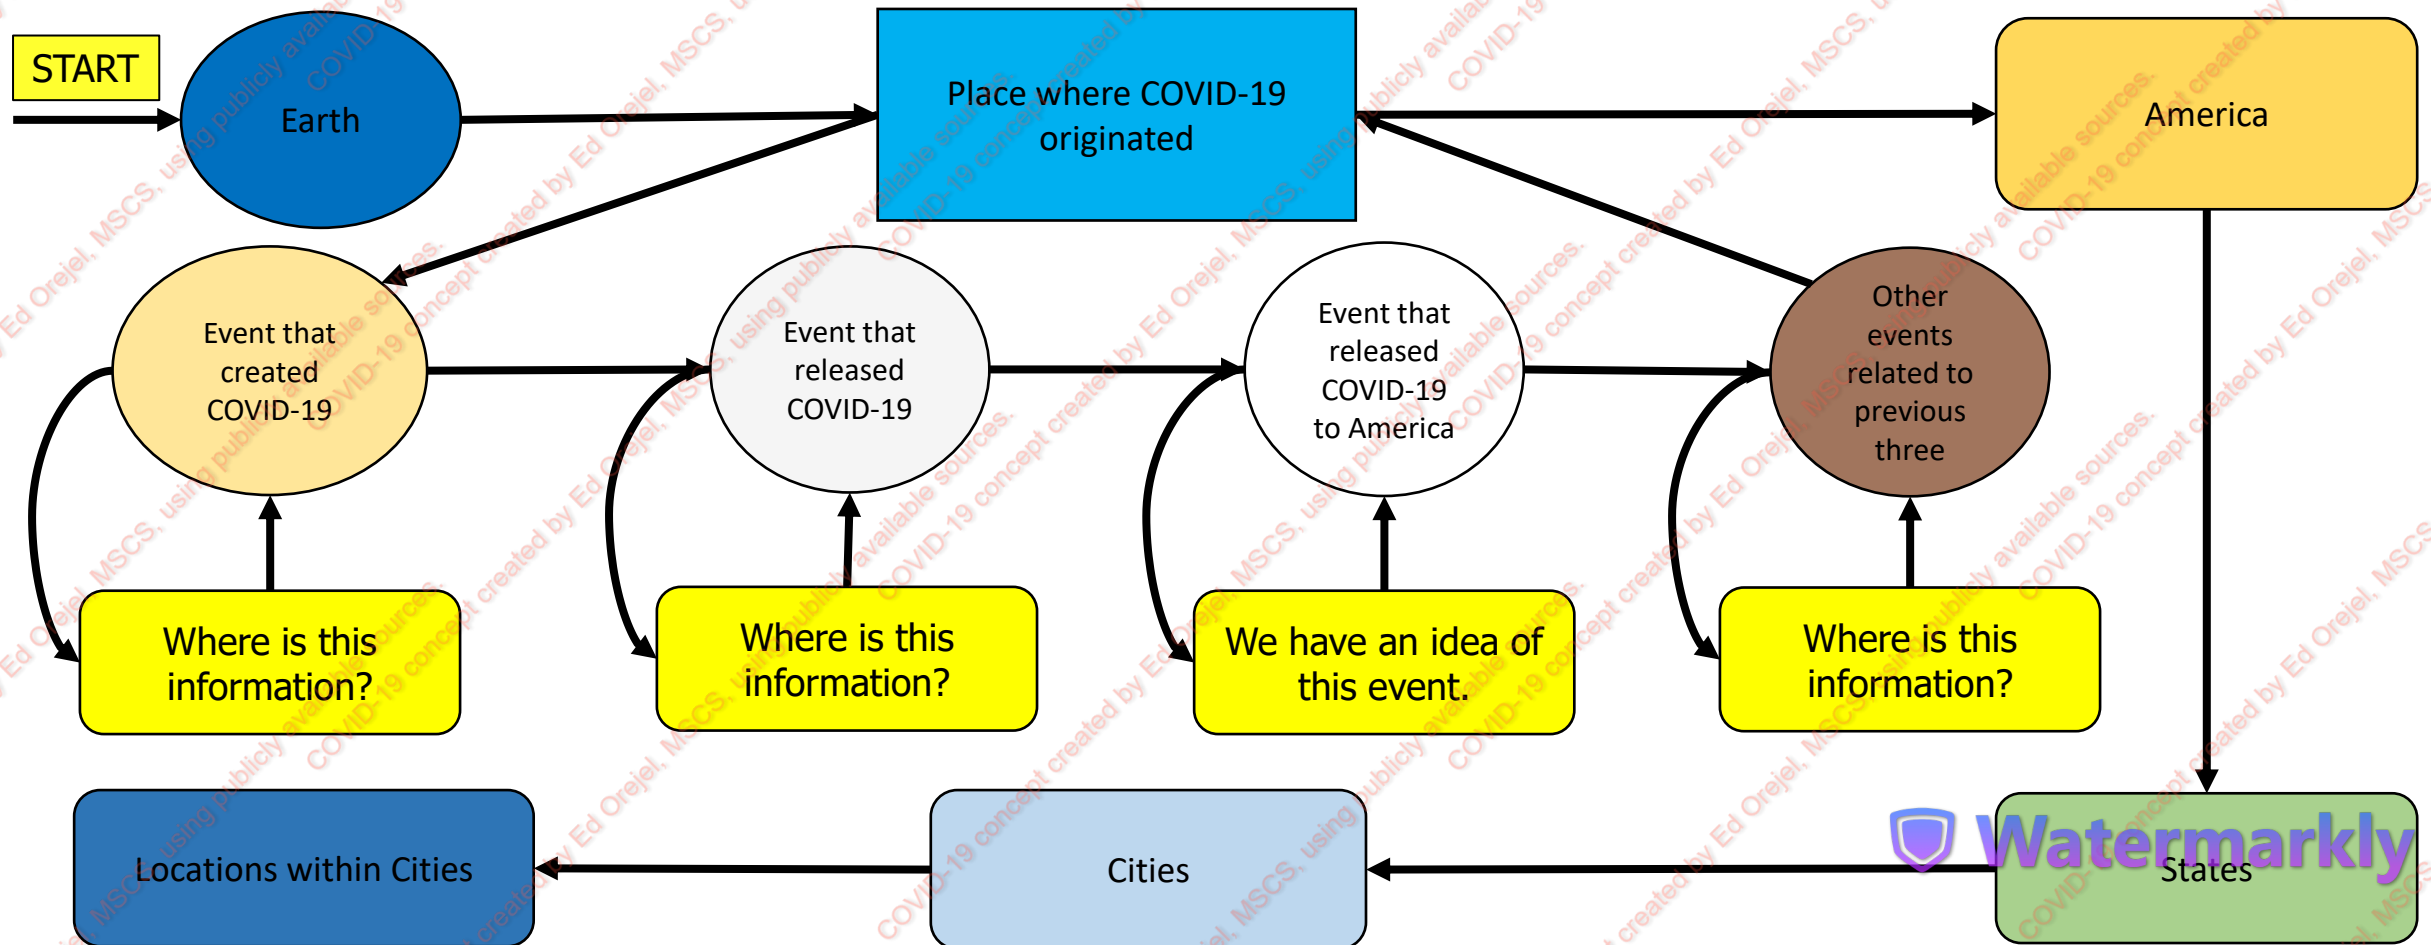

→ This hypothetical scenario on COVID-19's politicization was created using publicly available sources usually found on the Internet. The key that appears to link everything together is Hunter Biden's laptop, and its contents.

COVID-19 Trajectory and Politicization

- Only focusing on travel path to America, but Italy seems to be heavily involved in the path. I might look into Italy's potential role.
- I started with Earth to help me get a grasp on things to then begin the process of learning about COVID-19 by reverse-engineering it using its behavioral tendencies.
- Essentially, for any disease or ailment that is found within Earth, the cure or treatment must also exist within Earth. We just have to find it.

→ Start at Earth and follow the arrows to learn COVID-19's trajectory.

→ "Where is this information?" – means exactly that because publicly we do not fully know what happened to allow COVID-19 to release.

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Disclaimer: This is only a scenario, but the scenario does exist. This scenario did not exist until Hunter Biden's laptop surfaced.

- I will try to figure out why China did what it did in regards to the pandemic.
- Key phrases to help me remember:
  1. It's amateur hour!
  2. Don't do the crime, if you can't do the time.
- For this part of the analysis, I am going to start with the obvious facts or obvious assumptions, and then try to work backwards to see what can be learned from the thought process of the Chinese in relation to their handling of COVID-19.
- The Chinese had to have known that the way they handled COVID-19 would be scrutinized.
- The Chinese had to have known that we would notice that they canceled flights within China, but allowed flights out of China. This act appears to be the sole cause of the pandemic.
- Only public sources will be used for this analysis.
- Begin Political Analysis (In progress)
- Why would China make such a strong effort to appear heroic?
- Why specifically blame the pandemic on the U.S., then label President Trump as a racist because he called them out on the pandemic?
- Why the large propaganda campaigns to deflect blame for the pandemic or obfuscate the origins of the pandemic?
- Given some of the political issues that are surfacing in the U.S. Presidential election, a potential scenario for the large scale propaganda and immediate attacks on President Trump by calling him racist during the initial stage of the pandemic, is that the Chinese were trying to secure Biden's election because they knew he would be running against President Trump.
- The Chinese might have been trying to psychologically prime the American public for a Joe Biden presidency by attacking President Trump as incompetent, by pointing out that he is racist, and by them appearing heroic and willing to immediately send aid to other countries. However, this scenario did not happen because President Trump responded fairly quickly, and he stood his ground when others criticized his decision to ban flights from China during the initial stage of the pandemic.
- This scenario can be called: China wants Joe Biden to win.

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win

- This propaganda campaign assumes the response from the United States will slightly mirror whatever model response the Chinese have on the United States.
- China used propaganda during the initial stages of the pandemic.
- China made an effort to appear heroic, and noble by offering to help other countries at the start of the pandemic, and by labelling President Trump as racist. I never really understood why they did this until now.
- Italy, I assume with some planning with China, launched a huge Chinese campaign during the initial stages of the pandemic. This campaign was meant to make Italians more tolerant of Chinese. However, at the initial stages of the pandemic, I do not think anyone in Italy quite yet realized what COVID-19 actually is, or how fast it spreads within certain people of the population.
- Some in the U.S. media, while the pandemic is starting to hit the United States, begin to echo similar sentiments as the Chinese by claiming that calling COVID-19 the "China Virus" is racist.
- Some in certain political circles took extra steps to ensure that the Chinese image was not damaged during the pandemic.
- Example 1: Article from 2/24/2020, Nancy Pelosi Visits San Francisco's Chinatown Amid Coronavirus Concerns
<https://www.nbcbayarea.com/news/local/nancy-pelosi-visits-san-franciscos-chinatown/2240247/>
- In Example 1, it looks like Nancy Pelosi's visit to Chinatown was meant as a symbolic gesture to show that everything is fine, as well as to contrast with President Trump's actions of canceling flights from China. In the article, it states that a Chinese business owner claims to be losing business. The owner goes on to claim that fears of the Coronavirus are racially motivated.
- In Example 1, I will cut the Chinese business owner some slack because I am sure he and others, at the beginning of the pandemic, did not fully realize what exactly COVID-19 is, or what COVID-19 could actually be.
- Example 2: Article from 7/30/2020, Dianne Feinstein Lauds China as a 'Respectable Nation' in Senate Committee Hearing
<https://money.yahoo.com/dianne-feinstein-lauds-china-respectable-201744744.html>

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win

- Example 3: Article from 3/10/2020, Sen. Dianne Feinstein Cries 'Racism' Over Coronavirus <https://californiaglobe.com/section-2/sen-dianne-feinstein-cries-racism-over-coronavirus/>
- Example 4: Article from 7/30/2020, Dianne Feinstein Lauds China as a 'Respectable Nation' in Senate Committee Hearing <https://money.yahoo.com/dianne-feinstein-lauds-china-respectable-201744744.html>
- I think the Chinese are the ones that planted the racism seed, and they then used their Democratic allies and some in the U.S. media to make the racism seed flourish to the point where great efforts were made to label any reference to the "China Virus" as racist.
- Example 5: Article from 9/17/2020, House passes resolution condemning anti-Asian discrimination relating to coronavirus <https://thehill.com/homenews/house/516909-house-passes-resolution-condemning-anti-asian-discrimination-in-relation-to>
- At this stage, with Example 5, China's propaganda campaign to psychologically prime Americans to a Joe Biden presidency, is going well despite President Trump's initial actions, and further actions to stop the spread of the pandemic. China, through its allies, is controlling to a certain extent, how Americans can speak about the Coronavirus.
- I think this aspects of COVID-19's weaponization was pivotal to China because China effectively used a supposed fear of being called a racist as means to try deflect any negative criticism to its handling of the pandemic.
- China portrayed themselves victims by reminding other nations, to include President Trump, that "racism is not the right tool to cover your own incompetence" when it comes to handling a pandemic.
- China also tried to appear heroic during the initial stages of the pandemic by broadcasting on some of their news stations that it was willing to help other countries.
- Example 6: Twitter New Video Link from 3/21/2020, "Italy, don't be afraid. China is coming." <https://twitter.com/jenniferatntd/status/1241499345209483265>

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win

- I think from the beginning of the pandemic, and possibly before it, China had a requirement to fulfill in that they had to use racism as a tool to psychologically manipulate the American public into thinking that criticizing China was out of the question when it came to COVID-19. Further, China had to appear in a positive light to the American people, and China had to portray President Trump as racist. Which it did.
- I think it is not a secret that China is no stranger to censoring video or images that may portray weakness from China or may be damaging to China.
- Example 9: Article from 6/28/2019, The 'Great Firewall': China censors videos, social media posts of Hong Kong protests
<https://www.latimes.com/world/la-fg-china-hong-kong-censorship-20190618-story.html>
- Example 10: Article from 10/17/2019, N.B.A. Commissioner: China Asked Us to Fire Daryl Morey
<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/10/17/sports/basketball/nba-china-adam-silver.html>
- Example 11: Article from 10/21/2019, China state media: NBA's Silver will face 'retribution' for saying Beijing wanted Rockets GM fired
<https://www.cnbc.com/2019/10/21/china-state-media-on-nba-commissioner-adam-silver-hong-kong-tweet-fallout.html>
- Recently, Xi Jinping coughed 'violently' during key speech. The coughing sparked health fears. However, as Xi Jinping coughed, Chinese media cameras cut away from the coughing, but the audio captured Xi Jinping's coughing.
- Example 12: Article from 10/15/2020, Xi Jinping coughs 'violently' during key speech, sparking health fears
<https://www.wionews.com/world/xi-jinping-coughs-violently-during-key-speech-sparking-health-fears-335582>
- We definitely know that the Chinese are concerned with their image, and how they are portrayed. They tried to control the Coronavirus narrative to a certain extent in America. I could not fully understand why this was happening until recent political events in the election for the next U.S. President began to surface.
- With China exerting some type of control in media, sports, and social media, it was able to affect Chinese perception in America. Racism was also used by the Chinese to shape perception of China in America. As the U.S. Presidential elections began, there was only one Democratic candidate that was going to win no matter the outcome. This candidate would be Joe Biden.

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win – Joe Biden Sells the China Brand to Americans

- For this part of the psychological operation, Joe Biden, after he has become the Democratic front-runner for U.S. President, was supposed to use his business dealings with China to portray the Chinese in a positive light to the American public. Essentially, Joe Biden was going to sell the China brand to the American people, and the majority, if not all mainstream U.S. media would amplify that message. For the most part, Joe Biden's allies would also amplify that message or avoid criticizing that message.
- Example 13: Article from 5/6/2019, Analyst: Biden's comments on China 'inexplicable, absolutely incorrect' <https://thehill.com/hilltv/442351-analyst-biden-china-comments-inexplicable-absolutely-incorrect>
- In Example 13, Joe Biden has begun the process of downplaying the China threat. This is in stark contrast to what President Trump and his current administration have been saying about the threats posed by China.
- Example 14: Article from 5/2/2019, Biden on China: "They're not competition for us" <https://www.axios.com/biden-china-threat-us-5f0e3fa4-4869-4038-aa0d-d3164e63f3fc.html>
- Example 15: Article from 8/18/2020, In Biden's world, China will be unleashed <https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/opinion/op-eds/in-bidens-world-china-will-be-unleashed>
- In Example 15, Joe Biden says, "China is not our enemy. We want to see China rise." Joe Biden said these exact words roughly 5 years ago. You can listen to Joe Biden say these words here:
- Example 16: Beijing Biden: We Want To See China Rise <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ksNBPC1jX6U>
- Example 17: 5 YEARS AGO TODAY: Beijing Joe Biden Said He Wants "To See China Rise" <https://www.donaldjtrump.com/media/5-years-ago-today-beijing-joe-biden-said-he-wants-to-see-china-rise/>
- Example 18: Tweet with video link from 1/21/2020, Biden: "we should be helping" China, "the idea that China's going to eat our lunch...give me a break" <https://twitter.com/RNCResearch/status/1219720226327142402>
- It is safe to assume that Joe Biden has been and is very pro-China. I think it is also safe to assume that Joe Biden will favor China's economic prosperity over America's prosperity. The issue with Joe Biden's stance is not that he has this stance on China as politicians are allowed to have certain positions in relation to foreign policy. The issue is why exactly is Joe Biden so pro-China. Right now, the answer is Joe Biden is pro-China, and he is selling the China brand to the American people because he has to as part of an operation.

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win – Joe Biden Sells the China Brand to Americans

- For now, that operation is a political operation to get Joe Biden elected as President of the United States. There is nothing exactly wrong with this. The word “operation” may have certain connotations associated with it. However, some recent political issues pertaining to Hunter Biden’s laptop have surfaced, and it appears Joe Biden may actually be a compromised candidate that is running for the highest office of the United States because he is being coerced by China (possibly other countries). Using the word “operation” makes more sense now that these recent issues with Hunter Biden have surfaced.
- This would explain the rush to change the voting rules to allow for mail-in voting. The Democrats, or whomever is in charge of voting would like to change the rules for mail-in voting so that there is no clear winner, and the next U.S. President gets to be decided administratively instead of by an actual voting process. Appointment by administration is the only way Joe Biden can win.
- This would also explain why various social media platforms have chosen to control election results. The issue with the social media giants controlling election results is that if they have never done this before, why the sudden urge to control the tweeting or posting of election results on social media? Why now?
- Perhaps various social media companies were tasked to help Joe Biden secure a win just like the mainstream media was tasked with helping Joe Biden secure a win.
- If Joe Biden wins, with all of the constant cheerleading he has been doing for China in the past, and during his campaign, and the mainstream U.S. media repeating Joe Biden’s China stance without question, a pattern emerges that Joe Biden was purposely selling the idea that China is not our enemy, not our competitor, and that their rise was a good thing or will be a good thing. Joe Biden is essentially helping China control and shape the perception of China in America.
- This type of operation is very subtle and drawn out, but Joe Biden could not have masterminded this type of campaign operation on his own.
- There might be another update on this aspect of COVID-19 soon. It all depends on what is found in Hunter Biden’s laptop and how it is used.
- There are a lot of rumors floating around the internet in relation to Hunter Biden’s laptop, but these rumors do not distract from the fact that there are certain recent political and national security issues with Joe Biden, and his son recently discovered laptop.

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win – Joe Biden Sells the China Brand to Americans

- As of today, it is not out of the question that the Coronavirus was designed in a laboratory setting. The Coronavirus was then used as a political weapon more than a bioweapon.
- Was the Coronavirus weaponized? Yes.
- Was the Coronavirus politicized? Yes.
- As I reversed-engineered the behavior of the Coronavirus aka COVID-19, there was a major behavior mismatch between what was being reported in various media outlets, and what COVID-19 was actually doing.
- COVID-19 appears to have hidden unfinished curative properties more so than it has any type of weaponization properties in its current form. Then, I wondered why would someone, this would be China, risk giving up potential cures or treatments for diabetes, obesity, cancer, strokes, and a few others for the sake of causing a global pandemic.
- These actions by China now make sense in that they were not interested in causing a pandemic or launching a bioweapon. Enough data exists to create the scenario that China was more interested in securing a U.S. Presidential candidate that would eventually become President of the United States, but be under total Chinese control. In this way, American domestic and foreign policy is essentially being written by China.
- The scenario exists that any potential cures or medical treatments and any new technologies found within COVID-19, were worth sacrificing by China, so that they could get a U.S. President that would be under their control, loyal to them, and furthering China's policy on American soil using legal means instead of using force.
- The scenario exist that if Joe Biden gets elected, the American political system will be reshaped so that China ultimately controls the United States through legal means, possibly forever.
- Joe Biden appears to have been tasked with selling the China brand in a favorable light to the Americans, so that when he is elected, and begins shaping American foreign and domestic policy to favor the Chinese, it would be viewed as favorable or beneficial in some way.

COVID-19 Political Issues – Trying to Figure Out Why the Chinese did What they Did

Scenario to Achieve: China wants Joe Biden to Win – Joe Biden Sells the China Brand to Americans

- This scenario would also explain the interest that certain Chinese companies have, on certain social media companies. It was all to control and shape opinions that are favorable to China.
- Now that election for the next U.S. President has narrowed down to two candidates, it is fairly obvious in some instances that certain Democrats in various positions of influence or power are trying to help Joe Biden as much as possible so that he wins, and becomes the next U.S. President, controlled by China or other nations, however.
